The PGA TOUR Champions' first-ever Charles Schwab Cup Playoffs started with the top 72 players from the season's money list competing in the PowerShares QQQ Championship at Sherwood Country Club, Oct. 28-30. Through blustery and rainy conditions, Tom Pernice Jr. took home the inaugural trophy with a one-stroke lead over Colin Montgomerie. Now, the top 54 players will advance to the Dominion Charity Classic in Richmond, Virginia before the top 36 players ultimately descend on the finale event, the Charles Schwab Cup Championship in Scottsdale, Arizona.

PowerShares QQQ Championship attendees were able to get up close to watch the game's legends including Fred Couples, John Daly, Tom Lehman, Rocco Mediate and Miguel Angel Jimenez compete. Golf fans can look forward to the return of the event in 2017 at Sherwood Country Club once again.

The week began with practice rounds, Pro-Am competitions and a complimentary Community Champions Day with free attendance for the public. Invesco PowerShares QQQ sponsored additional events for spectators including golf clinics and a Military Appreciation Day honoring our military, their families and veterans.

When fans weren't watching the legends of golf, they were invited to see tennis stars Andy Roddick, Mark Philippoussis, Jim Courier and James Blake compete on Sherwood's tennis courts on Thursday, October 27 for the PowerShares QQQ Tennis Series as part of the free Community Champions Day. At the start of the day, the public was invited to compete against the pros, have lunch and participate in a Question & Answer Session. When the real competition began in the afternoon, however, Andy Roddick was able to outlast Mark Philippoussis and take home the SoCal Honda Dealers Helpful Cup, the ninth in the series of 12 events.

In celebration of the PowerShares QQQ Championship "Buy Now, Give Back" ticket program, presentations were made to charities who received grants from the Sherwood Cares Foundation and the tournament hosted a golf clinic for youth. The tournament also provided daily pass tickets to the Sherwood Cares Foundation to distribute to those who might not otherwise be able to attend and welcomed youth under 18 with complimentary admission. Many of the charities that have received grants for the Sherwood Cares Foundation provided volunteers for the event. Off to a strong start, the PowerShares QQQ Championship hopes to have the same level of support from the fans, community and volunteers as they look ahead to 2017.

KID'S MOVIE REVIEW

Attention parents of all kids between the ages of 5 and 17, we are now accepting sign-ups for our monthly Kid's Movie Review!

Here is how it works: Parents or kids may contact us to sign up. Then we get you two tickets to a current movie in theaters. You attend the movie, take a couple pictures by the movie poster, and write a couple paragraphs about the movie with your movie rating (1-5 stars). We will place the review and accompanying photos in our monthly newsletter!

It's a great way to participate in the newsletter and get out and enjoy some entertainment in our area!

Space is limited, so please email us to sign up as soon as possible. We will contact you and make arrangements for your first Kid's Movie Review. We will be featuring one to two movies per month. Please let us know if you have any questions or are interested in participating. Parental approval is required. Please contact the area director at janet.wachs@n2pub.com for availability and to sign up.
